CHRISTCHURCH
ART GALLERY TRUST

At Christchurch Art Gallery
Te Puna o Waiwhetu we pride ourselves on being home to one of New Zealand's most significant public art collections, and on the important role we play in the cultural landscape of our city.

As a public art gallery we are heavily reliant on funding grants and donations for our existence. Christchurch Art Gallery Trust, plays a vital role in sustaining our success through the collection of donations and the provision of funds for the continual development of the Gallery.

We invite you to become a supporter of the Christchurch Art Gallery Trust. Your support will help to ensure our continued growth as an internationally recognised centre of excellence, providing a stimulating and culturally enriching experience for all who visit now and in the future.

ABOUT THE GALLERY

Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetu opened on 10 May 2003 in the heart of the city's Cultural Precinct. Our Māori name, Te Puna o Waiwhetu, relates to the life-giving properties of the artesian spring on which the Gallery is built and the role of the Gallery in contributing to the cultural wellbeing of the community.

The Gallery replaced the Robert McDougall Art Gallery, the city's first public art gallery, as the home of one of New Zealand's most significant public art collections.

Originally founded with the Jamieson gift and the British and European paintings collection of the Canterbury Society of Arts, the Gallery's collection now numbers more than 6,000 items.

ABOUT THE CHRISTCHURCH ART GALLERY TRUST

The Christchurch Art Gallery Trust was formed in 1991 by the Friends of the Robert McDougall Art Gallery. It was established as a vehicle to raise and hold funds for acquisitions and to ensure that the Gallery's collection remains one of the foremost in New Zealand. The Trust also undertook the management of fundraising and receipt of funds for the building of Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetu.

The Trust continues to play an important role in cultivating relationships between Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetu and its generous supporters. As a not-for-profit organisation its primary objective is to provide ongoing, practical support to the Gallery by making funds available for collection development, collection-related and other special projects—including the development of international exhibitions—and senior staff development.

To further its support of the Gallery, the Trust has created an avenue for individuals and groups to make financial contributions to the Gallery. This innovation makes funds available for specific projects and supports the foundation of a more sustainable income stream for the Trust and the Gallery.

WAYS YOU CAN CONTRIBUTE TO THE CHRISTCHURCH ART GALLERY TRUST

Our future is dependent on the generosity of the many individuals and organisations who donate to the Christchurch Art Gallery Trust each year.

By making a donation to the Christchurch Art Gallery Trust you will be assisting the Gallery to:

- Improve the overall quality and significance of the collections
- Maintain and market a lively programme of quality exhibitions and public programmes
- Increase our ability to attract specific major international loans and exhibitions
- Support senior staff professional development

WAYS YOU CAN MAKE A DONATION

The Christchurch Art Gallery Trust welcomes all contributions and offers a number of different ways you can make a donation.

Annual Giving

Our three-tiered programme for making annual donations allows you to choose the level that best suits your circumstances. Choose from the Patrons' Circle ($10,000 and above), Ambassadors' Circle ($5,000 – $10,000) and Benefactors' Circle ($1,000 – $5,000). Each level of giving confers a number of exclusive benefits, including private dinners, cocktail functions, personal invitations and viewings and back-of-house access to collections.

Collection Development

The Challenge Grant and Challenge Grant Response Fund

The Challenge Grant is a ten-year commitment by Christchurch City Council to supplement the collection development budget by matching dollar for dollar any amount raised by the Trust in a year, up to $190,000 (inflation adjusted).

Donations to the Trust's Challenge Grant Response Fund are used specifically for the purchase of significant works of art for the collection.

Special Donations

Making a special donation means you can stipulate what you would like your contribution to be used for.

Bequests

This is your opportunity to leave an inspirational legacy for the future by including the Gallery in your will.
